THE EVANGELICAL AND REFORMED CHURCH

"Charles Beatty Preaching to the Indians"

The "Fund for Pious Uses" guaranteed the payment of annuities to the wives and children of clergymen who so willingly gave their lives in evangelizing the Indians of America and pushing the frontier farther West. Last year the Presbyterian Ministers' Fund paid more than two and one-half million dollars to beneficiaries.

THE FUND has constantly increased its service to Ministers, their Wives and Theological Students. The Fund is now offering complete life insurance protection under all policy forms.

YEAR BOOK AND ALMANAC

of the Evangelical and Reformed Church

1942

Issued Annually in November

Combining the Almanac and Year Book published since 1864 by the Reformed Church in the United States, and the Evangelical Year Book, published since 1911 by the Evangelical Synod of North America

Published by the Board of Business Management of the Evangelical and Reformed Church through the General Council's Committee on Year Book and Almanac.

REV. EDWIN K. ANGSTADT, EDITOR

THE 1942 YEAR BOOK AND ALMANAC

The Year Book and Almanac is the "reference book" of the Church. We believe that it can be valuable only as it is used effectively. To aid you, the reader, in your use of the book, the following brief notes and suggestions have been prepared.

The new cover design, and the new headings on the Calendar pages, are the work of Professor I. L. DeFrancesco, Director of Art Education at the State Teachers' College, Kutztown, Pa. Mr. DeFrancesco also supervised the arrangement of the pictures in the "Picture Section."

The daily Bible readings contained in the Calendar are a series prepared by the Rev. Otto Press, editor of the Friedensbote, and are especially designed to present the life of Jesus to children by means of appropriate New and Old Testament stories. We suggest that they be used for your family devotions each day. The Lessons for each Sunday, in the Calendar, are taken from the new "Book of Worship" which was submitted to the last General Synod for approval.

The "Emphasis and Opportunity Calendar" is a new department, and we believe you will find it of great worth if the suggestions given there are followed. The material has been prepared by Dr. Paul S. Leinbach (Editor of the Messenger), Dr. A. R. Keppel (Secretary, the Board of Christian Education), Dr. J. N. LeVan (Director of United Promotion), Dr. C. A. Hauser (Director of Adult Work), the Rev. F. D. Wentzel (Director of Youth Work), Miss Bernice Buehler (Director of Children's Work), the Rev. E. J. Westerbeck (Secretary, the Churchmen's Brotherhood), the Rev. J. E. Wagner (Chairman, Committee on Stewardship), and the Administrative Committee of the Women's Guild. Supplement your use of this Calendar with the discussion of the "Memory Hymn" in the Messenger and the literature of the various departments represented.

It will help you to know our contributors. MISS A. RUTH GISE is an active member of Christ Church, Elizabethtown, Pa., who has made an intensive study of symbolism. MRS. OLIVE M. BUCHER, the wife of the Rev. J. Frank Bucher, is a veteran missionary of our Church to China. THE REV. CHARLES D. SPOTTS is Professor of Religion at Franklin and Marshall College. THE REV. PAUL R. ZWILLING is Superintendent of our Evangelical Deaconess Hospital at St. Louis, Mo.

The section "OUR CHURCH IN PICTURES" has been arranged to show as wide a variety of activities as possible. As you take time to study it, you will be impressed with the numerous fields of endeavor undertaken by the Church in its desire to carry out the command of our Master, "go ye into all the world." There has been no attempt to "equalize" the number of pictures representing the work of each institution or Board, although every agency of the Church which sent us pictures is represented. The emphasis has been on depicting the work of the Church; and where the pictures supplied by one agency portrayed certain work better than the pictures of other agencies, those pictures were used.

The Directory, Statistics of the Church, Register of Ministers, Location of Churches, and other material prepared by Dr. Wm. E. Lampe, Secretary of the Church, remain the same as in former editions, except that this year all the Churches of the denomination are listed. (We would ask the clergy to send all changes of address, etc., direct to Dr. Lampe, and not to the Editor)

In the hope that these notes will make your study of the book more profitable, and with the assurance that your comments and suggestions for improvement will be welcome, we present to the Church this, the 1942 edition of the Year Book and Almanac.

EMPHASIS AND OPPORTUNITY CALENDAR

JANUARY, 1942

Congregational Memory Hymn:

"Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me"

272 (E)—328 (R)

Church School Memory Hymn:

"I Would Be True"

Christian Hymnways, p. 139

The Emphasis: INTERNATIONAL MISSIONS

In this month falls most of the Epiphany Season, the "making-Christ-known" season. With October dedicated to missions in the homeland, January is devoted to missions beyond the seas.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

"The field is the world"—an opportunity to preach the universality of the gospel of our Lord; to make known His will and command, "go into all the world"; magnify the work of the Church in our mission fields, upon which the sun never sets; the heroism of our ambassadors in seasons and places of war and suffering; to extend the hand of Christian love and brotherhood around the world.

ADULTS

In the present world crisis it is more than ever incumbent upon loyal Christian adults to keep themselves informed through the "Messenger," Outlook of Missions, and general literature of the Board of International Missions, so that they may pray and labor earnestly, encourage and give generously to this cause.

YOUTH

Work with your Consistory and church school officers in their plans for observing International Missions Sunday and for supporting our missions financially. Prepare for the study of the missionary emphasis, "The Church and World Order," during February by all your Youth groups.

CHILDREN

Children are eager to know how the children of other lands live and work, play and study. Help your children to discover children of other lands.

THE BROTHERHOOD

Jesus called twelve men to discipleship, and ordered them into active service in building His kingdom. The Churchmen's Brotherhood emphasizes some definite field of International Missions during this month.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Begin a study of the book, "A Christian Imperative," to gain a wider vision of the responsibility of Christians in the world-wide task of the Church.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Draw a map of the world, and with your community as the center draw a series of connecting lines to the lands where our International Missions are at work. See yourself, a member of the EVANGELICAL AND REFORMED CHURCH, as part of a world-wide enterprise.

EMPHASIS AND OPPORTUNITY CALENDAR

FEBRUARY, 1942

Congregational Memory Hymn: "I Love to Tell the Story"
240 (E)—635 (R)

Church School Memory Hymn: "In Christ There Is No East or West"
Christian Hymnways, p. 181

The Emphasis: CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

By action of the General Synod the period from January 1 to March 15 is assigned to the promotion of Christian stewardship, culminating in the annual Stewardship Essay and Poster Contest.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

"The Church that is today grew out of the institutions of yesterday; the Church of tomorrow is forming in institutions of today." A study of Christ's parables of stewardship reveals a profound emphasis on the giving of life and substance. Serving, giving, ministering was the substance of the life of Jesus. "To this end I was born." Our giving should be the first charge against our income.

ADULTS

"Hilarious giving!" Whoever spoke more beautifully and truly of giving! A day's wages represent a day of life. The better the labor, the nobler the life. Adults have the influence and the money. How dare we withhold!

YOUTH

Buy a few good books on stewardship; pass them around in a certain order among all your young people, so that each person reads one book. Talk over ways in which your own group may practice Christian stewardship more fully.

CHILDREN

Help the children to know how the offering for International Missions is used. Let them make a poster showing the various countries to which the offering is sent.

THE BROTHERHOOD

The Stewardship Department will use February to enlighten the members on important needs of the Kingdom. Every brother is a steward of God who honestly returns to the Lord what rightfully belongs to Him.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Cooperate with other groups in promoting a Stewardship Essay and Poster Contest in the local church. See the leaflet on the Essay and Poster Contest. Attend a World Day of Prayer service on February 20.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Write an essay, or paint or draw a poster, and enter it in our denominational Stewardship Essay and Poster Contest. Ask your pastor for details.

EMPHASIS AND OPPORTUNITY CALENDAR

MARCH, 1942

Congregational Memory Hymn:

"Just as I Am without One Plea"

208 (E)—262 (R)

Church School Memory Hymn:

"Rise Up, O Men of God"

Christian Hymnways, p. 170

The Emphasis: EVANGELISM

Looking forward to Palm Sunday and Easter, through Lent catechetical classes are busy and congregations are putting forth every effort to win others for Christ and the Church.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

"The harvest season" of the Church challenges pastor and people to "thrust in the sickle and reap." The intensive program of Lenten evangelism should be under way, with officers and workers organized, praying, visiting, and meeting for conference and report. "He that winneth souls is wise." It is only as we bring converts to the feet of Jesus that our Christianity blazes.

ADULTS

Only the Church confronts men with the love of God. A world steeped in hate needs nothing so much. Comes the call to all adults: "they that turn many to righteousness . . . shall shine as the stars forever and ever."

YOUTH

Ask a committee to report after reading the pamphlet, "Helping Other Young People to Be Christian," by Harner; also the section on "We Are Evangelists All the Time" on pages 35-38 of the pamphlet on "Youth Work in the Local Church." Promote the use of our youth devotional book, Windows of Worship.

CHILDREN

Enroll the interest of children in discovering the whereabouts of boys and girls who have dropped out of their church school class.

THE BROTHERHOOD

"Am I my brother's keeper?" During this solemn time of Lent, Churchmen will share with less fortunate ones the glorious message of a Saviour. This through a sincere campaign of winning men to the army of the Lord and enlisting sinners to march beneath the banner of the cross.

WOMEN'S GUILD

The members of the Women's Guild should participate in personal evangelism through visitation of the membership, and the unchurched of the community.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Re-read the book of The Acts, and then sometime during this month speak to some friend about accepting Christ and uniting with the Church.

"The Day of Resurrection"

Church School Memory Hymn:

"Lift Up, Lift Up Your Voices Now"

Christian Hymnways, p. 66

The Emphasis: FAITH TRIUMPHANT

The seeming deadness of winter is disappearing before the new life of spring, and in our church observances the sorrow of Holy Week and Good Friday gives way before the joy of Easter.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

"This is the victory that overcometh the world, even your faith." The resurrection is the foundation of our Christian faith and the theme for positive preaching in a time fraught with fear and misgiving. "If Christ hath not been raised, then is our preaching vain." "Via crucis, via lucis."

ADULTS

"Faith is the victory that overcometh the world." Unbelief in our day has all but ruined it. Therefore "Quit you like men, . . . taking up the shield of faith!"

YOUTH

Present a good Easter play. A list of recommended plays may be secured from the Board of Christian Education. Cooperate with young people of other churches in conducting an Easter Sunrise Service.

CHILDREN

Every child should have the experience of helping to plant seeds and watching them grow. At Easter time the church might give to each child flower or other seeds to be planted in the garden at home.

THE BROTHERHOOD

Spiritual harvest time! Souls won during the Lenten season will be consecrated during the glorious Easter season. In every chapter a victory celebration to the glory of God and the strength of the Church.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Sponsor a Lenten Quiet Hour for the women of the congregation during Holy Week. A prepared program directs the meditations on the suffering and resurrection of our Lord. This service can be a real spiritual experience.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Read a book on immortality, for instance, "The Gospel of the Hereafter," by J. Paterson-Smyth, or that lovely little anthology of poems, "Remember April," compiled by Margaret E. Burton.

The Emphasis: FAMILY LIFE

Beginning with Mothers' Day, which many churches now observe as The Festival of the Christian Home, the month leads on toward Children's Day early in June. How appropriate that in our Evangelical and Reformed Church this month is set aside for an emphasis on Christian education, which is the task of the Christian home as much as it is the task of the Christian congregation!

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

The Fifth Commandment has not been abrogated. God still sets the solitary in families. In the Christian family lies the world's strongest enrichment and fortification. The sanctity of the home, set aside in totalitarian lands, remains the hope of Christian civilization. In the home begins the life of the Christian steward. Religious "mortality," like the population death rate, is mainly due to neglect of childhood.

ADULTS

The spacious home on the farm has given way to the narrow house in the crowded row. But happy the family, to whom the home is still the "temple area," where father is priest and mother queen.

YOUTH

Help to arrange church meetings for the whole family, such as "Family Night." Observe Young People's Day on May 17, using the materials prepared by the Board of Christian Education. Prepare to send delegates to camps and summer schools.

CHILDREN

Help the children to plan specific ways in which they can live at home the things which they are learning in the church school.

THE BROTHERHOOD

Devotional Life Department will use this month to emphasize the Family Devotion. Since Christ is a member of every Christian family, no day dare pass until the members have communed with Him and sought His guidance in some form or other.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Stress the importance of mother and daughter relationship through some special event. Sponsor an Evangelical and Reformed Day of Prayer for Missions on Ascension Day.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Plan ahead so that on every Sunday, Mother's Day to Children's Day, your whole family will be at church together, and discuss the service at dinner-table afterward.

The Emphasis: YOUTH

The observance of Youth Day in our denomination, the coming of Children's Day on the second Sunday of the month, and commencements in schools and colleges, combine to center our interest in the problems, responsibilities and promise of Youth.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

Children's Day presupposes the child in the sanctuary—why not on every Sunday? Youth Day, in its inner reaches, reveals that modern youth, too, must be "about my Father's business." The Commencement season sounds the warning that education without Christianity is incomplete and defective. A pastor's counsel will direct our youth to the institutions of higher learning of our Church.

ADULTS

"Flaming Youth." The time when the passion of life runs at high tide, and youth is ready to pay any price for what it considers most worthwhile. No higher responsibility rests with adults than to steer this passion Christward by all we say and do.

YOUTH

Work with your Consistory and church school officers in planning for Children's Day. Welcome home those who return from academies, colleges, and seminaries, and invite them to take part in your summer program. Complete plans for camps and summer schools.

CHILDREN

Help the children to know themselves as a part of the church fellowship and to have an active share in the work of the church.

THE BROTHERHOOD

Brothering the boy and caring for the youth is one of the main objects of the Churchmen's Brotherhood. Here our chapters will study ways and means of carrying out something definite to aid the boy in his development of character.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Acquaint the members of the Women's Guild with the purpose and program of the Girls' Guild.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Why not invite one of the young people's classes or groups in your church to be guests at a party at your home, planning plenty of games and serving simple refreshments to crown the evening?

The Emphasis: CHRISTIAN PATRIOTISM

Independence Day offers an opportunity for a Christian interpretation of patriotism, participation in community celebrations of our national birthday, and a study of the relationship between love of our country and love for the Kingdom of God.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

We cannot divorce patriotism and piety. The rising flood of paganism, based on class, racial and religious hate, threatens our Christian institutions and freedom. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."

ADULTS

When we dig at the roots of this word, we recall it has to do with the fatherland. Christian adults know but one fatherland, our Father's kind of a world, where all men count, and love reigns.

YOUTH

Read the pamphlets, "Christian Patriotism" (10 cents) by Ansley, and "Youth Action in Christian Patriotism," (15 cents) by Stock, for excellent suggestions about study and action.

CHILDREN

Encourage the children to give a gift to the War Emergency Relief Fund. Christian patriotism knows God as Father, and all men as brothers.

THE BROTHERHOOD

As true Americans the members of the Churchmen's Brotherhood will also stress their loyalty to God according to the word of Jesus, "Give unto Caesar the things that belong to Caesar, but give unto God the things that belong to God." Here especially will our members endeavor to avoid hate entering the hearts of citizens, for love is the true sign of God's child, even to the task of loving the enemy.

WOMEN'S GUILD

The chairman of the Christian Citizenship Department is expected to distribute Christian Citizenship literature and to circulate the Reading Packet of this department.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Write a friendly letter to each of the young men from your church who are now in training camps, naval stations, or at a camp for conscientious objectors.

The Emphasis: RECREATION

This is the month of vacations, and followers of Christ will wish their days of leisure to be in actuality days of re-creation, so that they will come back to their daily work and to their church responsibilities with new strength and vision.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

This is the season in which the thoughtful look "through nature up to nature's God," when the beauty of the landscape, the mountain torrent and the evening sky echo "God." Many thoughtless ones say good-bye to God and to the rights of the soul and race along the broad highway of danger and destruction. May our "steering wheels" guide us to a worship of God in the sanctuary wherever we may be on His day, and re-creation will be complete.

ADULTS

Re-creation means more than a vacation, even though it is what it should be, recreational. If "self-preservation is the first law of life," then recreation of body and soul must be a daily exercise.

YOUTH

Read the pamphlet on "Youth Action in the Use of Leisure Time," by Howard (15 cents). Buy The Fun Encyclopedia, by Harbin, which is the best guide for recreation leaders now available.

CHILDREN

Ask the children of your church who go on vacations to share their discoveries with the children who stay at home. Pictures, small objects, cards, will help to keep the child on vacation in touch with the children at home.

THE BROTHERHOOD

Outdoor meetings are here in order. Being with God in his open space and hearing his voice through his wonderful creation, is our goal.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Sponsor an outdoor meeting for the society.

CHRISTIAN STEWARDS

Take along on your vacation a Bible, and perhaps a book of daily devotions such as "Windows of Worship," and spend at least 15 minutes daily in reading and prayer.

The Emphasis: THE MINISTRY

Our denominational Board of Pensions and Relief is allotted this month to promote interest in providing some security for aged and infirm ministers and their dependents. It is a good time to seek to understand, not only the worthy need of such as these, but the life, work and problems of our ministers generally.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

"The laborer is worthy of his hire," even down the western slope of life in the setting sun. The care of the aged servants of God is a logical form of social security such as is generally provided today. "Justice demands it; honor enforces it; gratitude compels it; self-respect requires it; expediency suggests it; sympathy directs it; religion urges it; obedience enjoins it; the love of Christ constrains it; the example of Jesus guides it."

ADULTS

The Christian ministry, like an eagle in flight, is two-winged. There is the ministry of the minister and the ministry of the laymen. The Church, the fellowship of Christ, mounts only when both wings are in operation.

YOUTH

Ask your pastor to speak to your group about the work of the minister. Get the literature of the Board of Pensions and Relief and discuss it at one of your meetings, inviting one of the members of the Consistory to help.

CHILDREN

Parents should make a special effort to help their children appreciate the work of the minister. Let them invite the minister to their home; help the children to know that the pastor is their friend.

THE BROTHERHOOD

The business of the Church should be part of the men's interest. Here our men will be asked to study the pension plan of the denomination and to think of such pensions in the light of Christ's word, "A laborer is worthy of his hire."

WOMEN'S GUILD

In this month all activities of the various departments should be stressed and renewed particularly; the delegates for the fall meeting should be chosen. A survey of the growth of the society might be helpful at this point, so that added impetus might be given to such activities as have not yet been sufficiently promoted.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Make an appointment for a visit with your pastor, and ask him to tell you what the chief problems of the ministry are.

The Emphasis: NATIONAL MISSIONS

This month each year is set aside in the interests of what formerly were called Home Missions. In city slums and underprivileged areas, in rural and urban congregations not yet strong enough to support themselves, in situations where special need for Christian service arises, our Board of National Missions carries on an extensive program in Christ's name.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

Our nation is still in the making. The strength of the nation is its ideals. We planted the Church in rural and urban America in an age which assumed the importance of religion. We cannot neglect it where this ministry is needed and in an age whose raucous voice all but drowns out the voice of religion. We assume our share of the responsibility to make America Christian in fact, as well as in name.

ADULTS

"God bless America." Do you sing it? Thoughtfully? One of our Synodical presidents has well said, "This is God's judgment day." Let us then first pray, "God cleanse America." When we have cleaned house then let us pray for the blessing.

YOUTH

Work with your Consistory and church school officers in their plans for observing National Missions Sunday and for supporting our missions financially. Study your own community to find opportunities for Christian service near at hand.

CHILDREN

Help the children to become acquainted with under-privileged areas in your city or community and with the work of our Church in its National Mission program.

THE BROTHERHOOD

During October we shall think of our neighbors, the wayward in our own country, the poverty-stricken in our own community, the work of the Church in gathering and serving folks who are unable to support a church and must depend upon the good will and love of others.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Cooperate in the Church Paper Campaign. This month all the women and girls of the Women's Guild have a union meeting. All should be encouraged to attend. Begin the study of our responsibilities in the Americas through study books and other available literature.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Write to the Rev. J. J. Braun, Secretary of the Board of National Missions, 1720 Chouteau Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., asking for free literature describing our home mission projects. Set aside time enough to read it.

The Emphasis: KINGDOM SERVICE

The third and fourth Sundays of November are designated for the Kingdom Roll Call (every-member canvass) in our denomination. If this work is to be done effectively and the response of church-members is to be generous and ungrudging, it will be only in proportion as, being made acquainted with the great world-wide program of service the EVANGELICAL AND REFORMED CHURCH is carrying on, they come to feel that they are privileged to participate in the finest venture this earth and all history have ever witnessed.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

Preparations for the Kingdom Roll Call, wisely begun months ago, should be completed. "Every-Member Participation" in the support of the Kingdom work shall be our goal. Publicity should begin in earnest, materials offered by the Department of Promotion should be ordered in needed quantities, stewardship sermons and a presentation of the whole program of the Church should mark the Sundays preceding the Roll Call.

ADULTS

What a beautiful service, this service of the King may become! When the Kingdom Roll Call is made, are you there to respond? What is the response? Whether mite, or much, let it be the most possible, for God's glory and not to be seen of men.

YOUTH

Let your officers sit with the Consistory in planning the Kingdom Roll Call. Let young people be members of all the teams that go visiting. Let your pastor or a member of the Consistory interpret the Roll Call to your youth group. Let your group pledge to raise a reasonable part of the total church budget.

CHILDREN

Enlist the children's interest in a community service project, giving "Baskets of Cheer" or carrying sunshine to the people of an Old Folks' Home.

THE BROTHERHOOD

In November our men are ready to enlist in Kingdom Service duties. As workers in the local church the Churchmen's Brotherhood will visit all members in the Every Member Canvass campaign, and do any other service the pastor will suggest in the interest of the church.

WOMEN'S GUILD

All Women's Guild members should whole-heartedly support the Kingdom Roll Call. Christian women should feel a personal responsibility toward the apportionment of the Church.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Take time out to think about this:—How does the amount you contribute to the church each year compare with your income and with what you spend on amusements and luxuries? Then make your annual pledge accordingly!

The Emphasis: SHARING

While we are celebrating God's giving of Jesus to the world, our heart-strings and our purse-strings are attuned to the spirit of sharing. It is a good time to think about the barriers of race and class and nation and creed, and about ways in which, in the spirit of Jesus, we can break down these barriers and build new bridges of brotherhood among men of good will.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

PASTORS

The whole world is kin at Christmas time. Walls of partition are broken down and barriers are burnt away. Such a day keeps the world young; rekindles faith in our fellow-men, all children of our Heavenly Father. It revives good-will and, where good-will goes, there peace will come. The Christ must be born anew in our own hearts. Remember in love the orphans and less fortunate ones. "The gift without the giver is bare."

ADULTS

In the Christmas month the emphasis is most appropriately placed upon sharing. We are reminded that God shared with us his Son, so that we might behold his glory of life and receive through Him salvation. God help us to share Him with the world today.

YOUTH

Give friendship and money to the poor. Give money to the War Emergency Relief Fund. Give to the Scholarship Fund of the Youth Fellowship. Give friendship to people of other races and nations; visit their churches and invite them to your meetings. Present a good Christmas play.

CHILDREN

Help the children to find ways of sharing Christmas joy through song, poem, story, Scripture with sick or shut-in members of their congregation.

THE BROTHERHOOD

This month will find the men of the church prepared to spread sunshine and happiness in view of the joy of the Christian Church in celebrating the birthday of our Saviour. Food and clothing, fuel and other necessities of life will bring a ray of the joy of Christmas to the less fortunate. We want to make the most of this month and thus end the year in a true brotherhood spirit.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Bring happiness to the underprivileged in institutions, in the community, and in the world.

CHRISTIAN STEWARD

Get the name of a needy Negro, Jewish or foreign-born family, and either by yourself or with your class or other church group visit this family, taking with you some suitable Christmas remembrance.

OUR CHIEF CONCERN

A Message from the President of the Church

It is with a sobering sense of responsibility that we address ourselves to the membership of a great Church in a day when God is pouring out his judgment on the world. Superficial concerns, if they have a right to claim our attention at any time, must wait for another day. In a time in which God speaks out sharply against the exaltation of race, nation, or class; in which He reveals to us the evil which we have permitted to flourish and perhaps have helped to foster in our industrial civilization; and in which He has made clear to us the weakness of our all too secularized churches, it behooves us in the spirit of deep repentance and humility to inquire after His will. Even this is not enough. Our earnest concern must be to discover the way through which we can bring our civilization and our religion into line with this will of God.

Since we have last written for these pages the world scene has become constantly more chaotic. Ever wider areas and an increasing number of nations have been drawn into the maelstrom of a war which has unleashed all the slumbering demonic forces of a world which has turned from God. A new and confusing alignment of nations, representing widely different forms of government and ideologies, has taken place. Our nation has abandoned neutrality and hovers on the very brink of an all-out participation in a conflict which even now has destroyed, in other lands and our own, many of those values and cherished institutions for which men struggled and died throughout the ages.

In the midst of this confusion the Christian will need to hold fast to certain things which he knows to be true and abiding. As a member of that community which we know as the Christian church and as one to whom the presence of God has become real through Christ Jesus, he will not waver in the faith which firmly believes that over the chaos of our times God's spirit broods. He knows of a certainty that God is able to bring order out of chaos. This assurance sustains all who through faith in Christ have discovered that even in judgment the holy God remains a God of love whose purposes are born out of his tender mercies and His long-suffering kindness. To this faith we cling.

As followers of the Christ and as members of His body we believe that the Church had the mind of its Master when in soberer days it declared that it would never again bless war. It is for this reason that a Christian will be found daily praying for a speedy return of the day of peace to all men. As an individual he has no other recourse. Because we believe in its power, we charge our people not to grow weary in intercessory prayer. As citizens of our nation, as free men, charged with the responsibility which ever attaches to freedom, we need couple our efforts to our prayers; trusting that as we labor and pray there may yet be preserved unto us the blessings of peace and the light of liberty.

Our concern today is not primarily with our denominational program. We go far beyond that. We would have the membership of our churches concern themselves anew with the very heart of our religion itself. By that we mean a new, intimate, living communion with that Christ through whom we know God and in whose fellowship alone we can discover God's will for ourselves and others. This is the day of a great choice for all of us. This choice has been aptly expressed by the theme considered by the fall meetings of our Synods. It is: "Christ or Chaos." Somehow we are convinced that our people are turning with anguished hearts to Him who said, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me: for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." Turn unto Him in new earnestness we must. Thus we will know Him again as the Rock of Ages. In Him we find refuge in a storm-tossed world.

This means, however, also that we will need to take our stand anew with great earnestness and utter devotion with His Church. She has the word of life in a time in which sorrow and death hold sway. She has the word of love for the healing and reconciliation of individuals and nations. As we yearn for assurance, in a world of confusion, and for hope, in a day of despair, we make our choice. We take our stand with Christ and His Church. To discover His will shall be our chief concern. That we may receive grace of Him to live according to His will, shall be our most earnest prayer.

L. W. Goebel.

SYMBOLISM IN THE CHURCH

By A. RUTH GISE

"A symbol is a story by a familiar sign that may be read at a glance" is the excellent definition given by F. R. Webber, an authority on church symbolism. Ralph Adams Cram, who has made wide use of symbols in the cathedrals and churches that he has built, has given a further explanation: "Through the symbol man lays hold, though doubtfully, on the fringes of Reality itself. All the highest impulses and emotions we have are expressible only through symbolic agencies. Man lives by symbols, and if those that are just and veracious are taken from him he will invent others, but these are always thin, poor, ugly, and without significance, in that they are made to order by ingenious though ignorant mechanicians, and do not lay hold on ultimate things . . . Symbolism has its danger, and that is that in degenerate times the symbol may be taken as the very thing symbolized. This is what is meant by idolatry."

True it is that men live by symbols. Industries have their trademarks, civic and fraternal organizations have their insignia, schools and colleges have their seals, and nations have their flags and emblems; all to arouse and hold loyalty to a certain cause and purpose. Also, within the Christian Church do we possess a rich heritage of symbolism of great significance. From the beginning of time God has used symbols to teach His great Truths. In the Garden of Eden the serpent became the symbol of Sin when Adam and Eve ate of the Tree of Knowledge; and the flaming sword of the angel represented the authority of God (Gen.: chs. 2-3). After the flood, God used a symbol to seal His promise to perpetual generations, "I do set my bow in the clouds, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth" (Gen. 9: 12-17). Tradition tells us that when blood was sprinkled on the doorposts of the Israelites in Egypt as a sign to save the first-born, it was in the form of the Tau Cross. Symbols under the direction of the Lord were used abundantly in the Hebrew tabernacle, finally reaching their height in Solomon's temple.

Jesus himself taught constantly in figurative or symbolic language, and following the example of Him who said, "I came not to destroy but to fulfill," the first Christians, who were also Hebrews, retained many of their customs as the basis for the religious practices of their Christian faith. Consequently, much of Christian symbolism can be traced back to the Hebrew religion. Later, during the days of persecution, the early Christians used symbolism freely in the catacombs. Within more recent years there has come a revival in church symbolism after its having been crushed by the extreme Puritan movement of the Reformation Period.

The center of all Christian worship is the Holy Communion established by Christ at the Last Supper on the night before He was crucified. The Bread and Wine of the Communion, in most Protestant Churches symbols of the Body and Blood of Christ, are placed upon the Communion Table or Altar. Through the ages the altar has been a place upon which men have offered a sacrifice to their God. Noah was the first on record to erect an altar (Gen. 8: 20). The Hebrews had two altars: the golden altar for the incense symbolized "the devotion of the soul, whose nourishment is of a finer nature," and the bronze altar of the burnt offering for the animal sacrifice, symbolizing "the body, which fed on flesh." In Hebrews 13 Paul refers to Christ as the altar, and in 1 Corinthians 10 he applies the idea of the altar as the table of the Lord to the Communion meal. The Protestant altar today is symbolic of the sacrifice made on Calvary as foretold in the Last Supper. Usually the altar has a tomb-like shape because it originated in the days when the persecuted Christians celebrated the Holy Communion upon the tombs of the martyrs in the catacombs.

Around the altar and Holy Communion have developed other symbols. Among the Hebrews the Passover, or Pasch, upon which the Holy Communion was established, was represented by a spotless lamb. By His supreme sacrifice upon the Cross, Jesus became the Paschal Lamb of the New Testament (1 Peter 1: 19). Therefore, the lamb has become the symbol of the Saviour ("sacrifice without blemish"), and also the symbol of modesty, innocence and meekness. In religious art, grapes signify the wine, or the blood of Christ; and the wheat signifies the bread, or body of Christ. Likewise, the chalice may be used to represent the cup of wine.

Upon the altar may be a cross, an empty cross, reminding us that Christ had been crucified, but that now He is alive forevermore. There are said to be over 400 forms of the cross, about fifty of which are used in Christian symbolism. The one used upon the altar is the Latin Cross, sometimes containing the letters IHS, the abbreviation for the Greek name ΙΗΣΟΥΣ, meaning Jesus.

The use of candles in services of worship dates back into the early history of the Hebrews (Ex. 25: 31-37). The seven lights as used by the Hebrews are said to have represented the seven planets which were regarded as the eyes of God, capable of beholding everything. The light in the center, which was especially distinguished, signified the sun as chief of the planets. In the Christian Church the custom of using light for purely liturgical purposes goes back to the year 420 when St. Jerome wrote, "It is the custom through all the churches of the East, that when the Gospels are read, lights are kindled though the sun is already shining, not indeed to dispel darkness, but to exhibit a token of joy and that, under the figure of bodily light, that light may be set forth of which we read in the psalter, 'Thy word is a lamp to my feet and light to my paths'." Lighted candles are placed, therefore, upon the altar as an expression of Christian joy, for the candle itself symbolizes Jesus, the Light of the World. The flame represents the divinity of Christ; the wax, Christ's pure body; the wick, His soul. Two candles upon the altar symbolize the two Persons of Christ, or the Incarnation, Christ the Son of God and Christ the Son of Man.

The chancel railing also had its origin in the early history of religion. Its original purpose was to separate the worshipper from the Sanctuary.

Among the Hebrews only the priests were permitted in the Holy of Holies, and in the early Christian Church only priests and their attendants were permitted in the sanctuary beyond the chancel railing. In many Protestant churches this railing is retained, but the opening in the center or at the end gives anyone the right to approach the altar itself within the chancel.

When paraments are used they are changed from time to time because the color varies with the seasons of the Church Year. Colors, too, can be traced back to the days of the Hebrews. They were employed in the Jewish ritual of the temple and synagogue, just as they are used in churches today, to express certain spiritual truths and emotions. The Levitical colors were gold, blue, purple, scarlet, white. The Christian Church uses five liturgical colors. White, the only liturgical color until the fourth century, signifies innocence, glory, joy, purity. Red, green and black were added during the years intervening up to the 13th century. Red, symbolic of fire and blood, indicates fervent charity and sacrifice. Green, the hue of nature, the color of fields and trees, expresses hope of eternal life. Black, the color of death, denotes mourning. It was a hundred years later before violet was permanently accepted as a liturgical color. It became the penitential color, denoting the sorrow of the contrite heart, and humility. Violet is used during both Advent and Lent.

The use of numbers throughout Biblical history makes an interesting study. The number 40 is an outstanding example: "I will cause it to rain 40 days and nights"; "Moses was in the mountain 40 days and nights"; "Israel walked 40 years in the wilderness"; "The time Solomon reigned was 40 years"; "Jesus was 40 days in the wilderness tempted of Satan." In church symbolism seven numbers have special significance. One means only one God, indicated in the use of only one church spire pointing to the one true God. Two is the number of Incarnation, representing the two natures of Jesus. This may be noted in the use of two candles on the altar or two spires upon the church. Three is the symbol of the Holy Trinity, as used in the equilateral triangle, three circles (the circle being emblematic of the idea of eternity), the trefoil, fleur-de-llys, the shamrock, or again, the three bases of the altar cross, three steps leading to the altar, three arches or windows in one unit of architecture. Four is the man-number, referring to the four seasons of the year, the four elements of earth, air, fire, and water, and the four directions of the earth—north, east, south, and west. Five means sacrifice, calling attention to the five wounds of Jesus' body while hanging on the cross. Seven is called the number of perfection because it is the sum of four, the man-number, and three, the God-number (Holy Trinity). Seven is used also many times throughout the Scriptures: God consecrated the seventh day; the seventh year among the Jews became the sabbatical year; the Jewish candlestick had seven branches. Again, in Revelation, St. John writes of the seven churches, the seven candlesticks, the seven spirits, etc. Twelve is the symbol of the Church, the Christian church having been founded upon the twelve Apostles. This may be seen sometimes in church architecture in the use of pillars holding up the walls of the church building.

The placing of flowers upon the altar is also of ancient origin. Flowers have a definite purpose besides being decorative, for they are the emblem of spiritual joy. Some individual flowers possess special significance in religious symbolism. The rose is one of the Nativity symbols, taking its meaning from Isaiah's prophecy of the joyful flourishing of Christ's kingdom; "And the desert shall rejoice, and blossom

OUR CHURCH IN PICTURES

A graphic presentation of the many phases of work carried on in this country and throughout the world under the auspices of the Evangelical and Reformed Church

On the following pages the many-sided ministry of our church, the Evangelical and Reformed Church, is presented through pictures in order that you may both see the work itself, and realize your share in it.

The Committee on Year Book and Almanac hopes that these pictures will help the members of our church feel that in belonging to this Fellowship, and in supporting its Kingdom Service program, they are a part of an enterprise of faith which is worthy of their pride and deserving of their devotion.

Examine these pages carefully, for they show how you reach out to touch the lives of many others when you contribute your gifts to the missionary, benevolent, and educational agencies of our Church.—The Editor.

as the rose." The rose is common in Gothic wood carving. The poinsettia is believed to have the same meaning. The Easter lily is the symbol of our Lord's Resurrection, as well as of purity. The burst pomegranate also symbolizes the Resurrection, the power of our Lord who was able to burst the tomb and come forth alive. It also has been used to represent royalty, hope, future life, and fertility. It was used on the robes of Aaron (Ex. 28: 33-34).

There are countless other symbols used in the various forms of religious art, only a few of which we can mention in this article. The palm branch tells us of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem. It is also the universal symbol of martyrdom (Rev. 7: 9). The olive branch means peace, reconciliation. The triangle and circle interwoven expresses the idea of the eternity of the Three Persons and of the Divine Essence. The crown not only signifies victory for the King of Kings, but also expresses the thought that we may receive the 'crown of life' as pronounced in James 1: 12, 1 Peter 5: 4, etc. The anchor stands for immovable firmness, patience, hope. It is one of the oldest of all symbols of our Saviour, having originated in the days of the catacombs, and its imagery is taken from Hebrews 6: 19. It is always shown in the form of a cross. A cross, an anchor, and a heart are the usual symbols of Faith, Hope and Charity. The sword means martyrdom by violent death. The dove represents the Spirit of God as it descended upon Jesus at His baptism. The ship, originally the ark, symbolizes the Church, tossed by the stormy waves of persecution, heresy, and schism. The sun has reference to the prophecy of Malachi 4: 2. The star may be used with three different meanings; the six-pointed star represents creation; the eight-pointed star, man's regeneration; the five-pointed star is the star of Jacob which refers, in turn, to our Lord Jesus Christ (Num. 24: 17; Rev. 22: 16). This star is the proper symbol of our Lord's Epiphany, referring to the visit of the Wise Men which is celebrated annually on January 6th.

The fish is a very interesting symbol. In the early days when Christians were in danger of being persecuted, they used the word or drew the picture of a fish to make known to their friends that they were Christians. The five letters that spell the word fish in Greek are the first letters in our Lord's title, "Jesus Christ, Son of God, Saviour." The fish, rather than the cross, was used because the cross was too easily understood by their enemies. The fish also suggested water, and it is through the waters of baptism that all persons alike become members of the Christian Church. Then, too, Jesus told his disciples that they were to become "fishers of men."

A few sacred monograms are in common use. A and Ω, Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending (Rev. 1: 8), are the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet. In addition to the IHS already mentioned, XP, the Chi Rho symbol, is among the most ancient monograms referring to our Lord Jesus Christ. It consists of the first two letters of the word "Christ" in Greek, ΧΡΙΣΤΟΣ. It is sometimes called the Cross of Constantine, and may be written in combined form, ☩ or ☩.

The spiritual atmosphere within a church is basic to divine worship. One of the means of creating this atmosphere is through symbolic beauty in architecture, paintings, sculpture, or stained glass. The sole purpose of church symbolism is to lead the worshipper's thoughts to God. It is our sincere hope that the reader may have gained a clearer understanding of the meanings of the symbols of the Church, and in that new understanding may be brought closer to God in the worship of the sanctuary.

THE CURSE OF GAMBLING

BY CHARLES D. SPOTTS

The head-bookkeeper of one of the banks with which I do business has just come back to town after an absence of two months. But he has come back under the custody of the County detective, and his address at present is the County Prison. When he fled, the newspapers announced that the bank funds which he handled were short by $307,000. By his own confession, we know that most of this amount was spent on the "horses" over a period of eight years.

But this man is not a criminal as we use the word in the popular sense. He was a respected citizen and had many friends. His job kept him occupied five and one-half days a week. His interest in horse-races was not the interest of a sportsman; he very seldom witnessed a horse-race. But he was motivated by the ever-growing desire of modern man "to get something for nothing." In his confession he stated "I started in a small way as a race horse bettor. Unfortunately, my losses became greater and the amounts I took increased from time to time." But this labels his conduct under the head of gambling, America's greatest vice.

BETTING AND "BOOKIES"

Today, commercialized gambling exceeds all other rackets in the scope of its menace. It is conservatively estimated that we in America spent about four billions annually on horse-race betting alone. A half-billion of this sum is wagered at the race-tracks; three times that amount is illegally wagered in poolrooms and handbooks far from the tracks. Get the significance of that: A half-billion legally played, three times that amount handled by gangsters and criminals who defy the law in their operations.

Mr. H. N. Pringle, who is more familiar with gambling in America than any other man, estimates that the "Bookie" racket costs the American people annually $2,100,000,000 divided among 57,750 men who are associated with this illegal business. They include book-makers, pari-mutuel operators, publication and sales of 291 "tip-sheets," turf exchanges, wire-tappers, crooked tipsters, specialists in turf swindles, and 500 telegraph and telephone employees.

CARNIVALS

But the vice of gambling is not confined to betting on the "horses." One Monday last summer, a commercialized Carnival came to our community. Within thirty minutes after the gates were opened we discovered eleven different varieties of gambling booths in operation, including a very popular "rat-game." It would have been bad enough if the customers who crowded around these booths would have had to face only Lady Luck. But even a casual observation revealed the accompanying factors of the racket. Balls were loaded, rats were trained, surfaces were not level, rings were heavy on one side, stool-pigeons were playing for the Company—all these were quite evident if one used his mental powers at all. And yet men, women with babies in their arms, college and high school students, and aged couples lingered for hours around these dens of vice hoping to "get something for nothing"!

Following protest, these places were all closed after the first night. Before the Carnival left town the managers complained that they had lost thousands of dollars during the week because we would not permit these devices to operate. And some of the customers complained because they thought that we had violated the "Bill of Rights." What a sad commentary on the moral principles of the American public!

At one of our Church camps, the writer discovered a Junior High School girl who was able to come to Camp only because she had won a "Bank Night" prize at the "movies" in her small community. She told me that most people in her neighborhood go to the "movies" on Wednesday night, even though not interested in the picture, because that is "Bank Night" and they do not want to miss a chance "to get something for nothing."

"Bank Night" is part of a larger gambling practice known as the "Numbers," a grubby graft which is spreading its operations over the country like a pestilence. In Washington it is estimated that every third person plays the numbers at some time during the year, and the record of New York and other large cities is no better. The whole traffic is controlled by racketeers, and their agents are to be found in every urban block and rural hamlet. It is a lottery, pure and simple, in which the bet is on the number "turned-up" by some event of the day.

Mr. Pringle estimates that we spend $750,000,000 annually on the "numbers"; and that this traffic includes 35,000 men who serve as number-game managers, helpers, ticket sellers and publishers of 60 "tip-sheets" for steering away from winning numbers players whose flat purses contain only pennies.

PUNCH BOARDS

The punch board is a gambling device designed to appeal to our children. It appears in the corner drug store, or grocery, or may be sent through the mail. The amount of prize money involved varies from $5.00 to $100. Catchy names are used as titles: Bonus Board, Seven Come Eleven, Silver Jackpot, The Gold Pot, Capital Treasury, etc. The margin of profit on these boards varies from 50 to 200 per cent. One of the meanest thieves is the penny punch board, which some unscrupulous candy dealers have placed in stores much patronized by children. These devices not only rob them of their pennies, but instil in them the fever for gambling.

Mr. Pringle estimates that the annual bill for punch boards and pull cards amounts to $300,000,000, which goes to the 6,000 employees of 98 factories and jobbers, 3500 traveling salesmen, and 150,000 operators.

GAMBLING IS SIN

"Gambling is, first, gain without merit, and secondly, gain through another's loss," said Herbert Spencer. Gambling is risk, but risk is not gambling. The love of adventure is one motive for gambling, but it is adventure perverted in its expression. It is also folly because Lady Luck is not blind. The "sucker" never gets an even break at the tracks, or in any other gambling scheme. It is fool's odds, and justifies the amusing remark of a racing man that the tracks were maintained "not to improve the breed of horses, but to skin the breed of asses."

But gambling is more than all this: it is sin. Canon Peter Green of England summarizes his indictment against gambling by saying: 1. It is sin against God. 2. It is sin against self. 3. It is sin against our neighbor. 4. It is sin against society.

The truth is that most gamblers are dissatisfied people; they have failed to build a philosophy of contentment. There are few gamblers among the men and women who have stimulating tasks, whose hobbies exercise their minds and bodies, who have friends and affection. The gambler owns a restless soul; and his very search for peace destroys his peace, unsettles his character, and brings black despair upon his soul.

FIFTY YEARS' SERVICE IN THE MINISTRY OF HEALING

BY PAUL R. ZWILLING

[Editor's note: We reprint, here, the following tribute to a consecrated veteran deaconess of our Church with the thought that her devotion may be the challenge which will lead other young women into a life of service for Christ and His Church.]

Emerson once said, "An institution is but the lengthened shadow of a man." Those who have watched the development and growth of the Evangelical Deaconess Home and Hospital know well how our institution is the lengthened shadow of a man and a woman. On April 21, 1891, a nineteen year old maiden entered the newly established Evangelical Deaconess Home and Hospital, whose life was to impress itself indelibly upon all whose life she was to touch. Undoubtedly the entrance to our hospital was accompanied with a measure of anxiety, a heart filled with hopeful expectations, as with halting step she surveyed a strange world, wondering what the future held in store for her, a fervent prayer on her lips that she would not falter in her purpose, nor fail in the attainment of her objectives.

This young woman first saw the light of the world in the farm home of her parents, Christian Gerhold and Carolina, nee Stanger, in Shelby County, Illinois, on July 23, 1871. On August 27 of the same year this infant was baptized by Rev. Matthias Galster, and received the name Katherine Magdalena. On April 18, 1886 (Palm Sunday), this girl with promise, was received into the full communion of the Christian Church, in St. Paul's Evangelical Church, Tower Hill (Dollville), Illinois, through the solemn rite of confirmation, the Rev. G. Bleibtreu officiating.

With her brothers and sisters Katherine Magdalena developed into young womanhood in the normal, though rugged life of a farm home in pioneer days. Anecdotes of her childhood give us a splendid understanding of how she prepared herself for later days. Katherine Magdalena was very fond of horses and is reported to have been expert in bare-back riding. Nellie was her favorite steed, until she slowed down, then without hesitancy she took to Topsy, whose speed had not abated. Beautiful, romantic woodland surrounded her country home, hemmed in by rail fences and crossed by a creek. The setting was perfect for an adventuresome, red-blooded girl, and served her purpose as well as an arena or the hurdles on a modern estate.

From time to time this sturdy young woman would take her younger brother for a horse back ride, and, while she sat astride of her mount, she would compel her brother to sit sideways, so that he could conveniently slip off when the occasion demanded hurried dismounting. On one such an occasion, her brother, now Rev. George S. Gerhold, held on so well, that both riders were thrown from their mount when the horse reared. We have heard of kings being thrown from their chargers with painful regularity; surely "Queens" may indulge in such sport likewise, without suffering painful indignity.

But despite the fact that Sister Magdalena has been reported as an excellent horsewoman, it must not be concluded that she lacked the finer senses of an adolescent girl. Indeed, she possessed a physical flaw! Alas! how it annoyed her. The idea that a girl of her pulchritude should have a lovely face decorated with horrible freckles was entirely against all the innate vanity that fills the heart of every girl; with the poet Ray she must often have cried: "By the pulchritude of their souls make up what is wanting in the beauty of their bodies." Upon the kindly advice of her gracious mother Sister Magdalena bathed her face with water from a hollow stump. But when she attempted to apply this same remedy to her brother John Henry, he demurred and said: "If God gave you freckles He wants you to wear them." Nor were freckles the only concern that filled the heart of our beloved friend. Indeed she was endowed with the heavenly gift of ministering to the needy and poor from her earliest youth.

A poor family, living on an adjoining farm, needed help. For pastime Sister Magdalena went regularly to the home, and as the need arose, did the family washing, tidied up the house and made herself generally useful. Because of the poverty in this home, our beloved Sister always took her lunch, so that the children of this poor household should not want for bread. On one occasion, however, she rushed to her duties of love and mercy without the essential physical provision. One of the youngsters of the Gerhold home raced after her, crying, "Oh, Kate! Oh, Kate! Here is your lunch!" The neatly wrapped package contained cornbread, pickles and meat, still favorite edibles on her bill of fare, that must have contributed much to her health, strength and physical well-being.

With such a background our good Sister was well prepared for the arduous labors which awaited her when she entered her chosen vocation, in answer to the heart desire of her Christian mother, whose chief ambition for her children was that some should dedicate their lives to the ministry of healing and others to the gospel-ministry. Sister Magdalena, in deference to her mother's wish, and with a true desire to become a servant of her Lord among His least, entered the Deaconess work, while her brother George entered Elmhurst College and Eden Theological Seminary, and after successfully passing his examinations, was ordained a Christian minister. In later years Sister Rosina Gerhold entered the Evangelical Deaconess Hospital to be trained as a Deaconess for the work begun at Lincoln, Illinois, which institution she served faithfully until she was translated into life where "There will be no death any longer, nor any grief or crying or pain; and where God Himself will wipe every tear from their eyes." (Revelation 21: 4.)

Sister Magdalena Katherine Gerhold

How that mother's heart must have rejoiced when two of her loving daughters consecrated themselves to the life of the healing ministry!

After the experiences common to the life of every novice in all vocations, Sister Magdalena settled down to her task in all earnestness. That she responded well to the discipline of the institution and to the instruction of her superiors, is well demonstrated in the success of her later life. For after all only those will succeed best who know how to follow consecrated leadership. One of her happy reminiscences of this early period in her training was that the first patient she nursed was none other than our late Superintendent, Rev. F. P. Jens, D.D., then the young minister of Christ Evangelical Church at Maplewood (Benton Station), Missouri; who had been afflicted with a glandular ailment, and came to the new hospital for surgical correction. In the providence of God, these two consecrated souls later became intimately associated in the dual leadership of the Evangelical Deaconess Hospital. No history of our work will ever be written without their names appearing as a golden thread throughout its pages.

The course of a true servant of the Lord does not always run smoothly; nor was the path of our venerated Sister always strewn with roses. But since she had dedicated her life unto the Lord, she was always ready to follow His directions, and with single-minded purpose she carried on until at last she achieved her life's aim. With the poet-philosopher Carlyle she must often have reasoned: "Our grand business is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand." Whatever the mountain-top experiences, (surely there were many during these blessed fifty years) the valley always lay yawning just ahead. But mountain-top or valley, Sister Magdalena never failed "to do what lies clearly at hand."

On July 22, 1892, the Board of Directors, in answer to an appeal from Rev. Carl F. Sturm, Sr., D.D., sent the new Deaconess to Emmaus, at Marthasville, Missouri, where she was placed in charge of the woman's division in the home for epileptics. She was recalled to the Deaconess Hospital on December 3, 1896, to assume the duties of the Sister Superior, as successor to Sister Superior Katherine Haack, who had offered her resignation. Dark days loomed ahead, for a crisis had disturbed the harmony and tranquillity of the comparatively new institution. Anyone with a timid spirit might have faltered and been frightened away from a task so great as that which awaited our beloved Sister Superior. However, with a steady hand, a stout heart and a calm spirit she went to work steadying the affairs of her beloved hospital until the spirit of peace once more pervaded its corridors.

Then, in answer to an appeal of the Board of Directors of the Deaconess Hospital at Lincoln, Illinois, and in consideration of her friend Rev. G. H. F. Niebuhr, who was at that time the Superintendent of the institution as well as its founder, Sister Magdalena entered that hospital on September 9, 1903, to help this organization get the right start. After nine months of faithful service in this work, she again returned to her first love, where she presided over her duties as becomes a devoted Sister Superior; as a "mother" to the novices, whose hearts were often burdened with the serious malady of homesickness, a friend of many disheartened patients, and counselor to many young physicians, who until this day love her for the maternal interest she revealed in their welfare. For thirty-nine years this faithful servant of God ministered to His needy and poor in a true spirit of self-abandonment and selflessness. On September 1, 1930, she retired from these heavy, active duties and the burdensome responsibilities which had rested on her shoulders for almost four decades.

But if there are any who believe that our Sister folded her hands and lamented the fact that she could no longer carry on, let them be disillusioned. With that rugged individualism, which she had inherited in her childhood and adolescent years in the farm home at Shelby County, Illinois, Sister Magdalena could not retire from a work that had become flesh and blood to her. Aside from such duties that make her a familiar figure in banking circles and the shopping marts of the city of Saint Louis, she can be seen daily and every night, moving quietly among the patients on their beds of pain, soothing a fevered brow, speaking a word of prayer, offering a word of Scripture for the comfort of the forlorn, and scattering cheer in the remotest corner of the wards, or in the brightest spots of the costliest private rooms in our hospital. How the patients love her! How manifold and happy are her experiences with the sick! In every nook and corner of the wide spaces of the city of Saint Louis, the writer has found those who have been consoled by "Sister 'Mary-Magdalena,' that sister with the auburn hair." How they sing her praises!

As an example of her incomparable service to the sick, we offer just one outstanding illustration. On a recent visit, this angel of love and mercy entered the room of a patient who operates a tavern. His spiritual life had been neglected so long, that he actually believed that his soul had overcome all desire for the heavenly manna. After some preliminary words, Sister Magdalena asked this lonely, unspiritual man whether he would permit her to read to him from the Holy Scriptures. Upon being answered in the negative, she pursued with the question: "May I pray for you?" Again a negative response caused her to inquire further whether she could sing some spiritual songs to him. When rebuffed once more, she quietly asked whether he would permit her to sit at his bed-side. Overcome by such persistent solicitude, the patient softened and replied, "Yes, I'd love it."

Without inquiring into his private affairs, the patient finally revealed his past to the good sister, stating that he, too, had been a member of a church, that his parents had been Christians, but, that he could no longer enter a church consistently, since people would wonder why he should wish to associate himself with church members. Firm in her convictions that no man can ever be wholly content in life unless he gives his soul into the keeping of God, Sister Magdalena said in answer to this man's own statements: "If I wanted to drink a glass of beer, I should come to your tavern to get it. If you were earnest in your desire to give your life to God, you should and would go to church. Why can't you come to my church?" The patient work of this servant of God finally broke down all resistance and this man expressed his highest regard for her to his attending physician.

A sketchy tribute must of necessity leave many things unsaid. With John, who authenticated the ministry of Jesus, in the Gospel which bears his name, we are tempted to say: "There are many other things that Jesus did, so many in fact that if they were all written out, I do not suppose that the world itself would hold the books that would have to be written." (John 21: 25.) If space permitted, we too, could write about many more things that occupied the busy life of our beloved Sister. But whatever the happiness and joy she shared with multitudes of people whose lives she touched; whatever the pain and sorrow of those who came to the Evangelical Deaconess Hospital for aid and surcease during these busy years of active service; whatever the successes or failures in her own life, or of her sister co-workers, physicians, or in the care of patients, Sister Magdalena never forgot "the one thing needful."

When reminded of the nobility of her character, the tremendous strides made under her leadership, with that of our beloved Superintendent of blessed memory, or the untiring service she rendered to the least of the Lord's children, she always responds in a spirit of true humility, so becoming to the Lord's own: "God is able to provide you with every blessing in abundance so that you will always have enough for every situation, and ample means for every good enterprise." (2 Corinthians 9: 8.) Then as an afterthought she never fails to add the beautiful words of Paul, the great champion of our resurrected Lord: "It is Christ's love that controls me, for I have become convinced that as one has died for all, all have died, and he died for all that those who live might no longer live for themselves, but for Him who died for them and rose again." (2 Corinthians 5:14.) Finally, she never fails to exult in her Lord in the words of the Psalmist: "Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but to Thy name, give honor; because of Thy kindness, because of Thy faithfulness." (Psalm 115: 1.)

If the life of an individual, faithful and true, could be summed up by one act or deed, it would be contained in one passage of Scripture, which has been preached through the ages, in which is contained that act of Mary when she anointed Jesus unto His burial, in the home of Simon the leper. Mary loved her Lord so much that she counted no gift too costly to be offered to Him. Mary was soundly condemned and criticized for her love-act, but Jesus came to her defense with those never to be forgotten words: "Why do you bother the woman? It is a fine thing that she has done to me. For you always have the poor among you, but you will not always have me. In pouring this perfume on me she has done something to prepare me for burial. I tell you, wherever this good news is preached all over the world, what she has done will also be told in memory of her." (Matthew 26: 10-13.)

Sister Magdalena gave herself vicariously into the service of God and her fellow-man. There were days of trial, to be sure; there were those who were disgruntled with her services because she was so human; there were others who betrayed her confidence, much to their regret and remorse, we are sure; some condemned and criticized her, and sought to offend in their indifference, ruled by the ideologies and the spirit of the world; but Sister Magdalena, in the spirit of "otherworldliness" steadfastly set her face toward her goal, ever realizing that nothing is gained when nothing is ventured, and that only those who are painfully and shamelessly inactive, will never be condemned, or criticized, and, will never meet opposition.

All who have had the privilege of working with her, love her as a co-worker in His kingdom; they know, too, her spirit of earnestness and fairness; she never asked those under her direction to do anything that she would not do herself. On this privileged occasion, when we may rejoice with her in the celebration of her Golden Jubilee, we unite hands and hearts in extending cordial good wishes and heartfelt congratulations. As God has blessed her in the past, so may He bless her in the eventide of her day; and, though the shadows may be lengthening, yet we know that her spirit has not abated in its youthfulness, and, we are assured that no task would bring fear to her heart and she would still offer herself heroically in every good deed, except that fifty years of faithful service did leave their marks.

We know that she is in full accord, as she takes a backward glance, with the spirit of Paul, Christ's great champion, who said: "I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your reasonable service." (Romans 12: 1.) How well did the poet-preacher Isaac Watts understand the sacrificial, selfless life when he sang:

*"Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a present far too small:
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all."*

(Written for the 50th Anniversary of the consecration of Sister Magdalena—April 21, 1941.)

THE GREAT GUEST

BY (MRS.) OLIVE M. BUCHER

Years ago I was told a Chinese story which I shall retell to you, with the setting as I pictured it when I heard it.

A temple stood on the top of a cliff that towered above a winding river. The vines that hung from the cliff, and the bushes and trees that grew about the temple, helped to make the place a picture of peace and beauty against the sky.

The priests probably loved the quiet of their home and the simple life which they led. It must have been a lonesome life, however, for the small boy who dressed like the priests and lived with them as an apprentice.

I can picture the little lad as he sat on a low step outside the temple door listening with respect to the wise teachings of the old priest, or hurrying here and there to do his bidding. His steps often lagged as he climbed the steep, winding path, with two buckets of water carefully balanced from the flat stick on his shoulder. Now and then he set the buckets down for a while, and as he rested, he looked from under the shadow of his hand as far as he could see along the river path that led to the city. He always hoped to see temple guests arriving. These occasional guests made life more interesting for him, and they often brought small gifts to the temple.

"We shall have a very important guest soon," the old priest told the boy one day, "so we must clean the temple well, and have everything in readiness for him."

The boy was much excited and worked earnestly and happily to have his share of the tasks done well, but as soon as possible, so that he might go out on the edge of the hill and watch for the great guest.

"He is coming! The great guest is coming!", the little apprentice cried, as he ran into the temple one day.

The man who was arriving wore a gown of fine silk, and shoes of black velvet upon his feet. Behind him were several servants carrying gifts of food and money for the priests, and incense and candles for the temple. The boy was delighted and listened eagerly to the conversation, as he hurried about pouring boiling water on the tea leaves in the tiny cups and, when they were emptied, filling them up again. He heaved a deep sigh of satisfaction as he watched the man and his servants start down the path again, then looked up with surprise as the old priest spoke.

"That was not the great guest," said the old priest.

The boy watched again, whenever he had time, and at last, a few days later, a procession wound slowly up the steep hill. There were finely dressed ladies and children in sedan chairs following the official who came this time. There were servants, too, bearing even finer gifts than those of the former guest. The heart of the small apprentice was happy, as he carried the trays of cakes and tea to the guest rooms.

These guests stayed on the hill top for quite a while. A pleasant breeze was blowing up there and the air was still and hot in the valley. The children and their nurses played in the temple yard, while the ladies slowly sipped their tea and chatted in one of the guest rooms. Out near the edge of the cliff, the official walked slowly back and forth, or gazed silently at the mountains, valleys and river. The chair coolies sprawled upon the grass in the shade of the trees. By and by, those who had come in chairs sat in them again, the coolies raised the chair poles with their cross pieces to their shoulders, and the procession started down the hill.

Benediction

BY HELEN M. SHUSTER

God, You were so close to us tonight
Upon that hill
Where all was quiet, no disturbing noise,
But calm and still—

We felt You walking o'er the distant slopes,
Mid skies aflame,
And as the day to twilight waned
To us You came.

Not in a rushing wind nor bush of fire
As You of old
Spoke to men; but, God, to us Your voice came clear
Through sunset gold.

A shrine arose with thoughts of life and You
Beneath that sun;
And so Your benediction reached us there
When day was done.

Thy Will Be Done

BY RONALD EYRICH

Though oft we pray, "Thy will be done,"

We plan our lives each day;

Expecting God to make his will Conform with our way.

We make decisions as we please,

Our selfish will expressing,

And having made our wishes known,

We ask the Father's blessing.

When nations form alliances,

They make their own selection;

Then ask the Lord to bless their side,

And give them his protection.

Though tempted to decide each day

Which way my feet shall tread,

Pray help me, Lord, to make my will Conform with yours instead.

The Great Guest

After the temple apprentice had watched the departing guests for a while, he raised his eyes to the face of the old priest. But the old man was looking at the sky, and not at the river path. "That was not the great guest," he said.

During the next few days no guests came to the temple. Then as the boy scanned the road below, he saw one man coming in that direction. He was disappointed to see, when the person was near enough, that he was just an ordinary man and evidently very poor. His faded trousers were rolled above the knees showing legs that were much too thin. His jacket was patched with many small pieces of cloth, so that one could hardly tell what the original cloth was colored.

The guest paused often on his way up the hill, as though his strength were scarcely equal to the climb. At last he reached the top, and he smiled faintly at the boy as he paused again to rest before entering the temple. Then he walked slowly toward the temple steps, ascended, and after a pause went inside. From the inside pocket of his jacket he drew a handful of copper coins which he laid upon the altar. The old priest watched silently as the poor man made his bows and departed at once, but he looked after him tenderly as the guest walked down the path. Then the priest turned slowly to the little apprentice.

"That one was the great guest," he said. "He gave all that he had."

I believe that the Chinese who know and understand a story of that kind can learn to know and understand Christ.

The Spirit of the Woods

BY JOSEPHINE BARRY

Let us in quiet veneration share
The spirit of the wood in hour of prayer—
Each heart unites in one rich harmony,
To lift its voice in a great symphony
Of worship to the one and only God.

The leaves breathe softly to the listening air
Of joy and beauty reigning everywhere,
The small blue bunting sings " 'Tis so, 'Tis so,"
The wind-swept grasses sigh "We know, We know,"
The brooklet chants a sylvan hymn of praise.

Here every blossom rising from the sod,
Gives all in homage to the living God;
The rue-anemone lifts its pearl-like face,
The wild geranium fills every place
With rosy petals, swaying in the breeze.

And even as the sunlight sifts its floss
Among the leaves and over ancient moss,
So sifts the fragrance of the nodding flowers,
Like incense through the farthest woodland bowers,
An offering on the altar of their love.

He who with humble heart has understood
The sweet and simple spirit of the wood,
Will start refreshed upon his toilsome way,
Resolved to give his best from day to day,
With perfect faith which dwells in perfect peace!

Man, walking alone on life's path, accomplishes little. He is like the colt harnessed to the plow—he knows neither what to do, nor how to do it. No farmer tries to plow with a team of untrained colts. But to teach the colt the work that is expected of him, the farmer teams him with an old plow-horse which understands the work. The colt jumps, runs, frisks about; but the old horse does the pulling and restrains the undirected energy of his partner. Finally, the young horse begins to understand what is required, and after a few days begins to pull his share of the load.

So it is with man! Only as he "walks with God" will his energies, intellect, will and spirit be directed to the way which leads to "abundant life."

NOW—You Can Take That Oft-Promised Trip to The Holy Land

How many times have you longed for a visit to Nazareth; to walk the streets of Jerusalem; to climb the Mount of Olives; to dip your fingers into the Lake of Galilee?

Now you can see in one evening what it would take a summer to see as a tourist. With a native Galilean as your guide, you can see all that you have promised yourself for many years. Through the BIBLE LAND MUSICAL TRAVELOGUE, "On Sacred Soil," bringing you the wonders of Jerusalem, Bethlehem, and Galilee in marvelous natural color films (16 years in the making at a cost of $60,000), you can actually see more in two hours than many people have seen in months at great cost.

Why not take your entire church to the Holy Land this coming year? January, February and March, 1942, will be spent in Detroit, Michigan. The fall season 1942, will be given to Illinois and Iowa territory.

Many societies will be enabled to secure sufficient funds to care for their missionary quotas (or any other project) through the generous arrangement afforded by Mr. Haboush, the native Galilean shepherd.

BETHANY ORPHANS' HOME

Womelsdorf, Pennsylvania

Rev. H. E. Gebhard, Superintendent

BETHANY, with a campus of 240 acres at the foot of the scenic South Mountain; a physical equipment of 17 major buildings; a splendid school system with special instruction as needed, and integrated into the public schools of the State,—affords an ideal "Home" for the orphans of our Church. The immediate needs of Bethany are a modern school building (present one built in 1902), two cottages for proper housing, and a swimming pool for added recreational facilities. These would be welcome as memorials.

Bethany, with its 227 guests (106 girls and 121 boys), is wholly dependent for its support upon voluntary contributions and legacies. It is worthy of your gift or bequest. Send all monies directly to the Home.

HOMEWOOD

"Old Folks' Home"

1805 Virginia Avenue,
Hagerstown, Md.

"For People Old and Feeble"

This Home was made possible through the generosity of the late
Mr. George C. Pearson, of Smithsburg, Md., and was incorporated
September 22, 1930.

Homewood cares for fifteen guests, but among the many on the waiting list are some of our most loyal and faithful members of the church. Because they are old and feeble no one wants them, and many of them must live in neglect.
Their lives are just as good and precious in the sight of God as others. Will someone help us to enlarge our present building and equip it for larger and better service?

Rev. W. R. Hartzell, Supt.

THE GERMAN PROTESTANT HOME FOR ORPHANS AND OLD PEOPLE

West Grand Boulevard, Detroit, Michigan

Our orphans' and old people's home is situated in one of the most beautiful sections of Detroit. We cordially welcome Evangelical people who may come to Detroit to visit our institution. A Grand River car to West Grand Blvd. will bring them right to the home. . . . The home is under control of the Michigan-Indiana Synod of our Evangelical and Reformed Church and is dependent upon friends within our Church for its support. . . . Our Home is able to accommodate 125 children and 50 old people. To meet our daily requirements is quite a problem at this time of social misery as the conduct for our institution is dependent more than ever before upon the generosity of our friends in the Church. . . . We cordially solicit your interest and express our gratitude to the many friends who have heretofore supported us. . . . Requests must be made in favor of "German Protestant Home for Orphans and Old People, Detroit, Mich." Other contributions will be gratefully received by the superintendent, Rev. F. Lueckhoff, 1852 W. Grand Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Phone: Tyler 5-8800.

Insurance That Insures

That has been the slogan and aim of the Mutual Fire & Storm Insurance for the past Fifty Years. The Association will celebrate its Fiftieth birthday March, 1942 and during that time has served the congregations of the Evangelical and Reformed Church faithfully.

Insurance plays a vital part in our American life and has become one of the largest institutions in the United States.

Mutual insurance plays a big part in this institution. Our Association has been built on mutual principles and has for its first essentials that of sound economical protection. Being mutual may not be the only necessary thing to be sound, but it is necessary that the insurance company be both sound and economical. It is for that reason that our Association was incorporated and began to build a reserve for the protection of its policy holders.

Although being organized as a purely assessment mutual and operated as such from 1892 to 1921 the Association has never called for a special assessment at any time. In 1921 the Association was incorporated and is now operating under the annual Premium in Advance Plan.

The superiority of mutual insurance has been definitely demonstrated by its ability to reduce cost and select the class of business the company wishes to write. It, therefore, would be good business on the part of all pastors and Church Councils to take inventory of their insurance to be correctly covered since there are many and difficult problems coming up during these fast changing times.

The Home Office stands ready to assist and aid you in your insurance problems and will gladly give information by writing to:
